House Okays 10% Tax Hike

Boost Tied To $6 Billion Cut In Federal Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate is expected to give swift approval to a House-passed bill giving President Johnson his long-sought 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

How Tax Boost Will Affect You

Tables Show Scale Of Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are tables showing the amount of additional income taxes a person will pay under the 10 per cent surcharge approved by the House Thursday.

A Senate vote scheduled for Friday is expected to send the bill to President Johnson, who has said he will sign it. They are based on use of the standard deduction or minimum standard deduction for personal expenses, whichever produces the lower tax; a retroactive effective date of April 1, 1968, and an expiration date of June 30, 1969.

Figures are rounded to the nearest dollar.

Annual 1967 Income Taxes	1968 Inc.	1969 Inc.
Single persons
1,000	16	0
1,900	17	11
2,000	163	12
3,000	333	25
5,000	671	50
7,500	1,168	88
10,000	1,742	131
12,500	2,398	180
15,000	3,154	237
20,000	4,918	369
25,000	6,982	524

SWEET SUMMER

Beaches May Escape Plague Of Alewives

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The Lake Michigan shoreline may be spared a major invasion by alewives this summer, a State Conservation Department official said Thursday.

There is every indication that last year's mountain of dead fish on Lake Michigan beaches won't be repeated this year, according to Jack Bails, administrative assistant in the Conservation Department's Fish Division.

Bails said last year's record dieoff of the alewives was traced to a record birth in 1964. He said the fish which have a three-year life span showed a smaller birth rate in 1965. Bails said an aerial survey of Lake Michigan just completed by Melvin R. Greenwood, base director of the Federal Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, found only a few of the fish off Evanston, Ill. Last year, the bad-smelling mountains of dead alewives that washed up on Lake Michigan beaches kept many tourists away and resulted in joint efforts by the federal government and Michigan and neighboring states.

FRIGHTENING SPLENDOR: A tornado funnel churns over the countryside after leaving nine persons dead, 100 injured and extensive property damage at Tracy, Minn., last week Thursday. The destructive twister was photographed by Eric Lantz, 16, who works for his father, publisher of the Walnut Grove Tribune, a weekly newspaper. A few minutes after this picture was taken, the funnel dissipated and the storm was over. The picture came to light today after Lantz' film had been developed for the Tribune. (AP Wirephoto).

Tells Why He Voted 'No' On Tax

Rep. Hutchinson Explains Views

Fourth District Congressman Edward Hutchinson today explained why he voted against the 10 per cent income tax surcharge passed by the House Thursday in the Senate.

"The people of America are not undeterred, the federal government has overspent. The income tax increase voted in the House last night is inflationary in its economic effect."

"The federal budget remains in the red. The bill imposes an expenditure limitation of $180.1 billion on the government during fiscal 1969. This is $6 billion less than the president planned to spend."

"I am wholeheartedly in favor of the expenditure cut and would have supported even more because the way to beat inflation is to reduce government spending. But I am still unconvinced the Johnson administration will cut back."

"During the past five months the administration's estimate of 1969 expenditures have actually increased by $3 billion from $186 to $189 billion. This during the very period of time when the Johnson administration was making reductions into effect during its six months in office, thus requiring the new administration to double the reduction."

"To remove that concern, it was argued that if the Johnson administration fails to put the expenditure limitations into effect, it will break through the debt ceiling in October. This suggests that in spite of the bill's expenditure limitation mandate, Congress may be asked in the fall to again increase the debt ceiling so that 'it should be remembered the government can borrow still more.'"

"It should be remembered that the so-called $6 billion expenditure cut is really no cut at all. The government proposed to spend $10 billion more in 1969 than in 1968. A cutback of $6 billion leaves the government spending $4 billion more in 1969 than in 1968."

"That's hardly a cutback," Hutchinson was one of seven Michigan congressmen who voted against the bill. Ten voted in favor of it and the other two abstained.

Representatives will be at Miami Marina Park, Buchanan, Mich., Sat. & Sun. Adv.

Laity Seeking Judge's Post

First Candidate For New District Court

Benton Harbor attorney and associate municipal judge Harry A. Laity today announced his candidacy for the judgeship of the newly created Sixth District court.

Benton Harbor attorney and associate municipal judge Harry A. Laity today announced his candidacy for the judgeship of the newly created Sixth District court.

Laity is the first candidate to announce since the Benton Harbor city commission Monday night decided not to retain its municipal court in lieu of district courts established by law.

The law created two district courts in Berrien county. The cities of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor will comprise the sixth district which will have one judge, and the remainder of the county will comprise the fifth district with three judges.

The bill creating the new district courts was signed into law Monday by Governor George Romney.

Elections for the judges will be held with primaries in August and general election in November.

Laity, 68, has practiced law in Benton Harbor since 1926. He is a member of the Michigan Bar Association.

He has served as associate municipal judge since 1957, when he was appointed to the bench. He was appointed when Judge Webster Sterling and associate judge Elizabeth Forhan, were both ill.

He was later elected to a full term as associate judge in 1963. Laity said "I have enjoyed my work as associate judge in Benton Harbor. It is interesting work and the new judgeship would be a challenge."

Laity has also substituted on the St. Joseph and Niles courts. BORN IN SCHOOLCRAFT

Groenke Will Fight Decision

Seeking To Run For Prosecutor

Baroda dairy and fruit farmer Laurel P. Groenke, 58, who Tuesday was ruled ineligible as a candidate for Berrien county prosecutor because he is not a lawyer, said he will fight this decision.

Groenke said he's addressed a letter to Berrien County Clerk Forrest H. Kesterke "trying to pinpoint where they could really find the eligibility for the various offices in the county."

"I hope I don't have to go any farther than that. However, I shall contact some individuals in Lansing next week to find out just how I should move on this situation."

Groenke quoted the Michigan constitution of 1963 as saying only justices and judges of courts of records must be attorneys. He said even Michigan and U.S. attorney generals need not be attorneys, through this is customary.

Groenke was ruled ineligible to run for county prosecutor late Tuesday by Berrien Prosecutor John Hammond, who quoted an 1855 Michigan Supreme Court case and rulings by Michigan attorney generals in 1928 and 1948.

Hammond does not seek reelection, but three other attorneys are vying for his post.

New Buffalo GI Wounded In Vietnam

NEW BUFFALO — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kliss, Lubke road, New Buffalo, received word by telegram today that their son, Army Pfc. Ronald H. Kliss, was wounded in Vietnam on June 14 from a booby trap while on combat operation. The telegram said Private Kliss suffered multiple fragment wounds to the right arm and both legs.

He had attended New Buffalo high school and entered the Army last August. He was sent to Vietnam in March of this year.

Chief Of Top Court Since 1953

Stormy Era Of Landmark Legal Rulings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren is leaving the Supreme Court which he has headed during 15 years of controversy over the court's liberal decisions such as those on race discrimination and police powers, authoritative sources reported today.

White House officials declined to comment on today's report however, and all efforts to reach Warren were unsuccessful.

Warren said on his 75th birthday two years ago he thought there should be compulsory retirement for all public officials but did not specify at what age.

"I believe that the strength of our system in this country depends on the infusion of new blood into all our institutions," he explained then.

NO FORCED RETIREMENT
There is now no compulsory retirement for federal judges although they may step down at 70 after 10 years on the bench and receive a lifetime pension equal to their full salary. Warren's salary is $40,000 a year.

Usual procedure for a Supreme Court justice wishing to leave his post is to notify the President of his desires. It normally would be up to the President then to announce the retirement.

The big Californian was named to the top post on the Supreme Court in 1953 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. At 77, he is known to have long felt it was time to step aside.

President Johnson, who expects to leave office himself when his term ends in January, will be able to name Warren's successor before he leaves. The appointment is of critical significance on a court where appointees commonly serve for decades and the relative strength of the liberal and conservative factions can be reversed by the departure of a single justice — depending on the politics of the President who chooses the man to fill the vacancy.

The Warren years on the court have been marked by unrelenting controversy. From the historic 1952 decision on school segregation up to the equally sweeping housing discrimination handed down just this past Monday, the court's actions have been headline-makers.

Ultra conservatives, while generally outraged at the court in general, have had special dislike for Warren. For years there have been "Impeach Earl Warren" billboards in sections where anticourt sentiment runs strong.

CALM MANNER
Through it all, the man in the eye of the storm has, to all appearances, been unflappable, retaining the outgoing and unpretentious manner that stood him in his three scandal-free terms as governor of California before he was named to the bench.

Warren was trained in law at the University of California but never sat as a judge until, at age 62, he was picked to be the nation's highest jurist. He was no stranger to courtrooms, however, having laid the foundation for his political career with seasoning as a rocket-busting district attorney and attorney general.

He was the vice presidential candidate on the 1948 Republican ticket headed by Thomas E. Dewey. When the GOP lost the election in spite of virtually unanimous forecasts that it was headed for victory, Warren explained the upset this way: "Mr. Truman just got too many votes."

College Grant
WASHINGTON (AP) — Washenaw Community College Thursday was awarded a $279,106 supplemental grant by the U.S. Office of Education. The grant brings to $750,000 the federal funding for a $5,461,748 science building presently under construction.

US-31 Plans Aired By Ferguson

Some Segments Okayed In Detail

NILES—Route locations have been decided for two segments of the US-31 highway extension project between Benton Harbor and Niles, according to Ardale Ferguson of Benton Harbor, a member of the State Highway commission.

He told the US-31 Corridor association the exact route has been approved for a 11.1 mile stretch from Niles to a point south of Berrien Springs, and for a 1.2 mile link that will extend easterly from Benton Harbor's East Main penetrator at I-94 to the new US-31 extension.

Preliminary engineering is expected to start almost immediately for these two segments and right of way acquisition then can follow.

Ferguson told the western Michigan resort and business group that the exact route of the 13.1 mile stretch of the new limited access superhighway from south of Berrien Springs to the I-96 junction with I-94 near Benton Harbor has not been decided. Two alternative routes presently are under consideration for this stretch. One would go west of Berrien Springs and would include two bridges across the St. Joseph river. The other alternative would go east of Berrien Springs and would stay on the east side of the river.

According to Ferguson, all preliminary engineering and right of way acquisition is to be completed under a current construction program ending June 30, 1972. He added that the contracts should be let for the paving before that date.

He also reported the contract for a 3.9 mile stretch of the US-31 extension from the Michigan-Indiana line to near Niles is to be let in February of 1970.

Hair Stylists, Now, Michigan Barbers Declare

HOLLAND — Approximately 200 delegates of the 2,000-member Michian Barbers Association met this week at Holland and agreed in the future they would be known as hair stylists rather than barbers.

They said they no longer prefer to work with the traditional scissors and clippers, but now work with a blower, brush and razor to cut and style hair.

The Lords Flaunt

The Commons

Future historians unquestionably will put 1968 down as a year of discombombulation.

Everything and everyone seemingly is unhinged.

France has narrowly escaped an overthrow of the Fifth Republic and Italy is in such turmoil that the only symbol of an existent government are the police and the army.

Several of Russia's Iron Curtain neighbors are infusing some capitalistic notions into the Communist economy.

Uncle Sam has the Poor Peoples encampment at Washington and, Students for Democratic Action upsetting the college campuses as replacements for the long hot summer.

Even the alewives are failing thus far to show up noticeably in Lake Michigan.

Merrie Olde England which has experienced her full share of troubles lately continues to stay in the front rank of the upset.

If anyone familiar with British politics had predicted at the start of this week that the House of Lords would thumb its nose at the House of Commons, his critics would have nominated him as a prime candidate for the booby hatch.

It happened, nonetheless, for the first time in 60 years when Winston Churchill was beginning to groom himself for a well deserved niche in English affairs.

Churchill led a movement to abolish the House of Lords because it vetoed a tariff measure adopted by the Commons. Churchill was an ardent free trader. His opponents were in a minority in the Commons, but they managed to stack the Lords against him.

Under threat of losing what few prerogatives had survived to

Food for Thought

A South Vietnamese cabinet minister has delivered an indictment of the American influence on South Vietnam.

His words should be pondered by America, for they could make a difference in postwar plans for that country.

In an address at the University of Hawaii, Ton That Thien said that the United States has had a worse impact upon Vietnam in 14 years than the French had in their 100 years of colonial rule.

This, of course, isn't quite fair, for it comes from an intellectual. Any educated Vietnamese is likely, because of the French dominated school system, to be sublimely at home with all that is French and be contemptuous of America.

Perhaps Ton That Thien's grandparents or great-grandparents might have had a different view of the French impact upon Vietnamese culture. Certainly it was great; and certainly all of it was not good.

Nevertheless, his words are disquieting for a well meaning country to have to face. "Since 1954," said the minister, "a new element has come into play: The intrusion of America, whose culture is still farther removed (than the French) from the Vietnamese, and still more devastating in its disintegrating effects on Vietnamese society, because the speed of change under its tremendous and pitiless impact has outrun the Vietnamese capacity for adaptation."

As the richest, most powerful nation in the world, the United States cannot simply pull back from its world commitments. Americans must realize that there are many dangers in their very presence in other countries.

BORN TODAY

On Nov. 13, 1967, his major achievement was a ground-breaker: the first Negro ever elected to the office of mayor in a major United States city.

When he won the mayor's office over Republican Seth C. Taft, member of Ohio's political family, he was hailed as the grandson of a slave who had defeated the grandson of a president.

Carl Stokes was born in a poor neighborhood on Cleveland's east side in 1927. His father, Charles, a laundry-worker, died when Stokes was 2 years old, leaving his mother, Louise, to raise him and his older brother, Louis, on her small earnings as a cleaning woman.

Stokes was a high school dropout who came back to finish his education. He left East Technical High School, went to work, then signed up for the Army. While serving in occupied Germany after World War II, Stokes decided to finish school. He returned to Cleveland, obtained his high school diploma in 1947, and then attended West Virginia State College and Cleveland College of Western Reserve University.

Joining the Ohio State Department of Liquor Control, he was involved on occasion in gun battles as a liquor agent. After three years, he returned to college, this time to the University of Minnesota, receiving his law degree in 1954. This was followed by his LL.B. degree from Cleveland Marshall Law School.

Among his positions has been a probation officer, assistant city prosecutor, and a member of the state House of Representatives.

Stokes ran for mayor in 1965 and lost in a close race as he was to win a close race two years later against Seth Taft.

Others born today include author-botanist Donald C. Proulx, artist Rockwell Kent, Jean Paul Sartre and Reinhold Niebuhr, theologian.

DON'T BLAME THE GUN

A sudden shot, a spurt of blood and gore,
An ugly red stain spreads on the floor,
A noble soul toward heaven sped,
An empty casket from which life has fled.

A drunken guest, a threatening boast,
A burst of flame, a murdered host,
An argument, harsh words were said,
A sudden movement, a man lies dead.

But it's not the gun, the club or the knife,
That maim or cripples, or takes a life,
Realize this one fact, if you can ...
It's the evil that lurks in the heart of man.

It will do no good to remove the gun
From the sportsman's hand, and spoil his fun,
For a man with murder in his soul
Will find some way to achieve his goal.

For a gun may be needed for self defense,
And again ... it may never find use,
Don't ban the gun ... it's not to blame,
But clamp down on its abuse!

No, it's not the gun that commits the crimes,
That plague our nation in troubled times,
No need for new gun laws on the books,
The answer is simple; lock up the crooks!

Lock up the sadists and belligerent drunks,
The vandals, the hoods, the riotous punks,
To keep our nation safe and free,
Lock 'em all up ... toss away the key!

RIVER VALLEY'S CREDITABILITY GAP

The River Valley school district has just lost an election requesting 14 mills for operating expenses. The situation here is critical. Without additional operating millage beyond their allotted 9 mills, I do not see how they can possibly operate the school this next year.

Of course it is true that all school districts have been hurting for a long period of years. The underlying reason for this is that our tax system for supporting the schools is antiquated and extremely unfair. This system is not limited to this locality or even to this state. Last week on a TV program a man who was being interviewed regarding the Chicago and Illinois schools stated very positively that they would never be able to clear up their situation until school taxes were removed from property tax rolls and raised on the basis of income taxes.

Back in 1895 when our old courthouse was built, we were proud of it and thought that we really had something there. It has now been replaced, and there is talk that it is beyond repair and should be razed.

Back there in 1895 the property tax was probably not perfect, but at least an acceptable method of raising tax monies.

I doubt if the majority of the voters today realize how utterly unfair the present tax system actually is. It is no trouble at

DR. COLEMAN

.. And Speaking

Of Your Health

What is the difference between a contusion and an abrasion? Is one more serious than the other? Does one or the other suggest the need to be examined by a doctor? What first-aid home treatment should be given for them?

Mrs. M.T., New Jersey

Dear Mrs. T.: Injuries to the skin and to the underlying tissues include, in addition to contusions and abrasions, lacerations and puncture wounds. Before I attempt to show the differences (some of which may be technical), the important aspect that the reader must understand is that they all need clean care as quickly as possible. Any break in the skin invites bacteria which immediately set up housekeeping, begin to multiply, and start an infection.

When the outer layers of the skin have been rubbed off without an actual break, the injury can be called an abrasion. Rubbing the skin against a wrestling mat produces the typical abrasion of the skin, with exposure of tiny blood vessels, with or without bleeding. The simple, effective remedy is cleanliness. The skin should be washed gently with a non-irritating soap and kept covered. In most instances, lots of water and soap is all that is necessary. If bleeding is excessive, pressure with dry, sterile gauze or a clean handkerchief will control it. The wound should be covered, making sure that any adhesive tape used to keep the dressing on, is not in contact with the injured skin. Antibiotic ointments are not needed, but somehow these make people feel a little more comfortable, knowing that the control of infection has begun.

A contusion is an injury to the skin which is caused by a blunt, rather than a sharp, cutting object. Almost always, the skin itself is unbroken, but the injury to the underlying tissues such as muscles, blood vessels, nerves and bone, may be severe. Such an injury is almost immediately followed by swelling at the site, caused by seepage of blood into the muscles and other tissues beneath the skin. The pain that accompanies the discoloration and the swelling may be severe because of the stretching of the tissues and spasm of the muscles.

The immediate application of cold tends to reduce the swelling and to control the hemorrhage into the soft tissue. Cold applications can diminish the intensity of the pain. A moderately tight bandage can help control the bleeding and make the patient more comfortable. Later, warm applications are used to help nature absorb the blood from the injured tissue.

This is an excellent first aid measure for most injuries. Cold at the very beginning, warm applications later. This varies, of course, when the doctor later sees the patient in case of severe injury.

Lacerations vary in severity. Simple ones need meticulous cleanliness with soap and water. Severe ones demand the control of bleeding with pressure over the wound. This should be maintained until the victim is seen by a doctor, or taken to a hospital emergency room. Here, the technical cleaning of the wound is followed by antibiotics and tetanus injections when necessary. Puncture wounds need the careful inspection of a physician to be sure that important organs beneath the skin are not injured, even if the outside wound seems negligible.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH: Break in new shoes slowly to avoid injury, or even possible infection, of the feet.

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Contract Bridge

You are South; neither side vulnerable. The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♣	3 ♦	4 ♠

What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

- ♠A J 4   ♣K Q J 10 9 8 5   ♦7 2   ♠A 8
- ♠A 6   ♣A Q 8 7 4   ♦K Q J 3   ♠7 4 2

- ♠A K 9   ♣A Q J 10 7 5   ♦K 8 3   ♠A 9

1. Two hearts. Partner's double is for business and he probably expects to beat two clubs two or three tricks, but he is presumably counting on you to take three defensive tricks.

So, while it is true you have the proper values for an opening bid, you should not stand for the double because your hand is clearly the offensive type and lacks the defensive values generally associated with an opening bid.

Once you reject the double by bidding two hearts, partner will know that your hand is under par from the standpoint of high-card values, but over par from the standpoint of trick-taking values if your suit becomes trump.

2. Pass. Although you have a minimum opening bid with only 12 high-card points, you should willingly accept the double by passing. Your three trumps add considerably to your defensive values, since the more trumps you have in conjunction with partner's already announced length and strength in trumps, the more tricks your side is bound to take.

3. Three clubs. Here you take the double out, not because you think the contract cannot be defeated — West can hardly make two clubs doubled — but because a game is virtually certain and a slam is a distinct possibility. The penalty you can exact at two clubs doubled is unlikely to compensate for the game or slam you may score. Three clubs guarantees a void and urges partner to either name a new suit or show heart support.

4. Pass. Here you accept the double, despite your unexpressed distributional values, because your opening bid is completely normal from the standpoint of high-card values. The K-x of trumps are especially valuable on defense and should lead to a juicy penalty.

5. Three hearts. Game is extremely likely and you indicate this by jumping to three hearts. Again you take the double out because it is very doubtful that the potential penalty would repay you for the game in hearts with 100 honors you can probably score on the hand.

In general, you do better in the long run by respecting partner's doubles, but, despite this, you should treat each individual double as merely a suggestion, not a command.

MSU Student Swartz Cited For Research Work

Stephen Schwartz of Benton Harbor, an honors student in his senior year at Michigan State University, has been appointed to the Speaker's staff in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Schwartz, 21, has just completed a major research project in which he compiled a comprehensive summary of data on the 1967-68 legislative session. The material will be arranged into a reference document to aid legislators in future years.

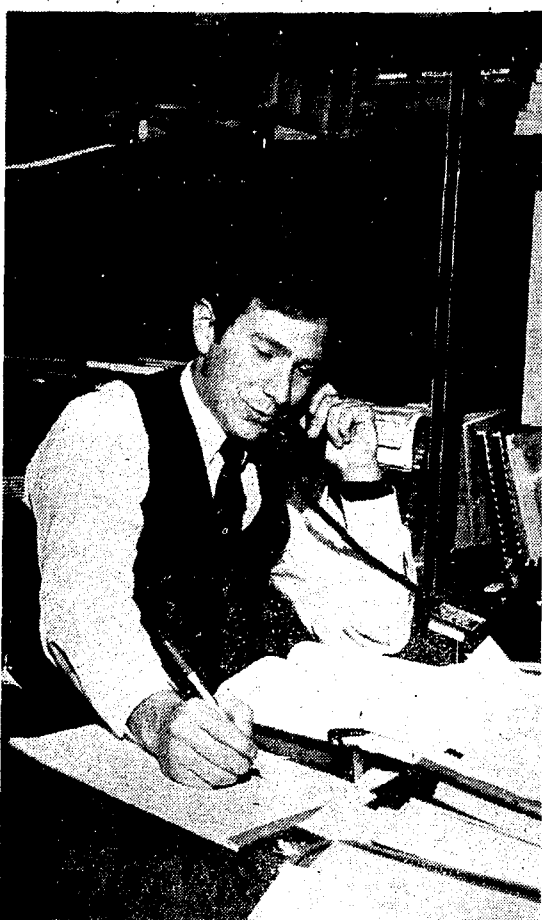

Born in Benton Harbor, Schwartz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schwartz of 2268 Colfax avenue, Fairplain. He is a 1965 graduate of Benton Harbor high school, where he served as class president during his junior and senior years.

POLITICAL STUDY

Schwartz's assignment at the State Capitol coincided with an independent political science study at MSU in which he was involved. He will continue as a member of the legislative staff this summer, with his duties shifting to assist the departmental liaison officer in researching specific information requested by House members.

Commenting on his experience in state government, Schwartz said, "It has been strongly reassuring to me, at this time of great social upheaval in our country, to see that here in Michigan there are men and women dedicated to meeting the problems of vast social change head on in a progressive manner. I am extremely fortunate to have the opportunity to work with them and contribute my small share to this effort."

Schwartz comes to the capitol with outstanding credentials. He is enrolled in Justin Morrill

RESEARCH ASSISTANT: Stephen Schwartz of Benton Harbor, newest member of the Speaker's staff in the Michigan House of Representatives, is pictured at work in his office at the State Capitol in Lansing. Schwartz is a senior at Michigan State University.

College at MSU, a select experimental liberal arts school with an internationally oriented curriculum. His studies are in the fields of political science, economics, and history, directed toward future entry into law school.

SEVERAL HONORS

Schwartz has been the recipient of various honors, including placement on the Dean's honor list, membership in Delta Phi Epsilon international affairs honorary fraternity, and a Justin Morrill College academic award in the French language.

The legislative aide is not a neophyte in political realms. This past spring he served as assistant director of a simulated 1968 GOP presidential nominating convention and democratic symposium. The program was the first of its kind sponsored by Michigan State University and received national attention.

This summer, in conjunction with his responsibilities at the state capitol, Schwartz will be undertaking an independent research project on American foreign policy with the assistant dean of MSU's social science department, Baljit Singh.

Kazoo Man Fined $100

Kenneth E. Heystek, 23, of Kalamazoo, paid fine and costs of $100 after pleading guilty yesterday to contributing to the delinquency of a minor and furnishing intoxicants to a minor.

Heystek was arrested by New Buffalo state police and arraigned by St. Joseph Township Justice of the Peace Leo Price. Justice Price said the minor was under 16.

Budget Cuts Discussed By Board

Final Chance To Raise Funds For Next Year

The Lakeshore board of education in a special meeting Thursday night voted to once again place a proposal for six additional mills to operating money before the voters.

The six mills for three years will be placed on the ballot in a special election on Aug. 12. This will be the last chance for voters to approve the additional millage to provide money for the next school year. This would be the latest time the millage could be approved to place it on the tax rolls for the year.

If the proposal is rejected by voters, it can not be voted on again until next year, according to Edward Stafinski, superintendent.

ELECTION ASKED

Before the board took action on the matter, petitions of expression containing over 400 names were presented to the board asking another election be held as soon as legally possible.

Before the petitions can become legally binding to ask for the election, additional names will have to be turned in. Ten per cent of the total number of registered voters are needed on petitions in the amount of 460 names. The board was told some petitions are still being circulated.

On Aug. 12 voters will be asked to approve only the six mill proposal. In the last two school elections held in Lakeshore three proposals were on the ballot, including one mill for a building and site fund. The board voted not to ask voters for the extra mill in August.

According to Stafinski, the six mills would bring in $246,411. He said that amount would be used to hire six additional teachers and to meet teacher salaries for teachers presently in the system agreed to with the Lakeshore Education Association. He said this would cost $147,000. He said $23,000 would be used for teacher and employee insurance; $16,500 to repair the boiler and roof at the Stevensville elementary building; $59,000 to purchase new school buses for a total of $246,400 leaving a $14 balance.

If the six mills is not approved, Stafinski said the following programs would have to be eliminated: The six additional teachers needed in the system would not be hired and the present teaching staff would have to be reduced by 13. The teachers eliminated would be from the boys and girls physical education classes, art, vocal music, instrumental music, one junior high teacher and one senior high teacher.

CURTAINMENT OF SPORTS
Stafinski also said all extra curricular programs would have to be eliminated including athletics. He said there would be no football, basketball, baseball, cross country, or cheerleading. He said there would be no class sponsors, no dramatics, no debate or forensics, no student council in either the junior or senior highs, no yearbook or newspaper, no junior or senior high bands and choirs and no guidance coordinator.

He said by cutting these programs the district would save $14,310. He also said teachers would again have to assume noon hour playground supervision, which would save $8,000.

Stafinski said there would be no capital outlay including replacement of equipment which will save $38,000. The purchase of library books will be cut in half and general teaching supplies cut to only $22,000. Buses would have to be purchased on the installment plan meaning the district would have to pay high interest rates.

The budget cuts would amount to $246,061. Stafinski said another important item to consider is that if the millage does not pass and programs curtailed the district will probably lose its North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges accreditation. He said this would create problems for those students wishing to enter college.

Stafinski also said in the elementary schools there is the possibility of an abbreviated

MUST RELOCATE CATS: Mrs. Max Daken (left) and Mrs. Sam Daken lure kittens with a piece of yarn, while wary, untamed mother cat watches from advantage point midway between kittens and an avenue of escape. The two have no trouble luring the kittens, but they want to catch the mother cat and move her out of a building owned by Benton Harbor urban renewal by this weekend. (Staff photo).

Urban Renewal Leaves Cat, Kittens Homeless

'Can't Just Let Them Starve'

By HOWARD HOLMES
Staff Writer

"We can't just let them starve," explained Mrs. Sam Daken yesterday as she fondled a six-week-old kitten.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Max Daken, sat nearby petting the other member of a litter of two kittens.

They were sitting in a building at 322 Colfax avenue, Benton Harbor, that had been vacated a month ago by their husbands, partners in the Daken Produce Co. which moved to 1470 Milton street when urban renewal purchased their property.

With cat food, the two wives have been making twice daily trips to the dusty building on Colfax avenue. Its only occupants are two kittens and an untamed mother cat, which nobody has been able to pet.

The husband of Mrs. Sam Daken claims he is paying rent to urban renewal for the empty building just to keep the cats — and to keep his wife — happy.

Urban renewal bought the building March 15 and Daken said he was billed 60 days later, a sum that figures out to about $100 a month. They must have the cats out by the end of the week at the latest, however, because of an auction scheduled for next week.

The cat, a tortoiseshell color, strayed into the egg warehouse about eight months ago and, although fed by the Dakens, never allowed any of them to handle her.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sam Daken said they are afraid the mother cat will either chew or scratch them if they attempt to pick her up, and they cannot corner her, they said, because she goes behind a partition when approached.

Mrs. Sam Daken said she had the cat in a cage in her car once, but the cat escaped and she stopped the car and called her husband. She left the car sitting in the middle of traffic at Colfax and Empire avenues to make the call.

At that time, her husband wouldn't let her take the cat home, she said, so it was taken back to the vacant building, along with the two kittens. Sam Daken has since changed his attitude.

"My wife won't let me be until I get that cat out of there," he said. "Those cats are knocking heck out of my every plan to go fishing, by having to go down there every night instead."

The wives agree there was a conspiracy to get their husbands to move the cats to their new location.

The problem is, how? They have called the dog warden, who takes only dogs, and the Berrien animal shelter, which takes cats, but you have to take them to the pound, they don't come get them. They have also gotten no help from the police or conservation department.

"They're looking for suggestions."

LIQUOR LICENSE

Ross Airport May Get Good Restaurant

A new state law will allow the Twin Cities Ross Field airport board a special liquor license.

"A liquor license would be a stimulant for acquisition of full-time restaurant operation in or near the terminal," said Don Stewart, Benton Harbor city manager and a member of the airport board.

He said it is his opinion that the airport board would allow a restaurateur to build, equip and operate a "better-than-average" restaurant on airport property. "The capital cost of such a restaurant would have to be borne by himself and not the airport board," said Stewart.

Fourteen airports, many in the Upper Peninsula, will be permitted special liquor licenses without regard to local quotas under a bill that Gov. George Romney has allowed to become law without his signature.

Local governmental approval still is required.

The law, which will take effect 90 days after the Legislature adjourns, permits the licenses for all airports served by scheduled airlines. It does away with a 100,000 population cut-off figure included in present law.

OTHER AIRPORTS

Airports affected by the law besides Ross Field include: Phelps-Collins, Alpena; W. K. Kellogg Regional Airfield Battle Creek; Escanaba Municipal Airport; Houghton County Memorial Airport, Hancock; Ford Airport, Iron Mountain; Gogebic County Airport, Ironwood; Kalamazoo Municipal Airport; Manistee County — Blacker; Marquette County Airport, Marquette; Menominee County Airport, Menominee; Emmet County Airport, Pellston; Sault Ste. Marie Municipal Airport and Traverse City Municipal Airport.

Spray Rig Explodes In Hagar Twp.

The gas tank on a farm spray rig exploded in Hagar township yesterday when a worker attempted to repair a leak in the gas tank. Benton township firemen reported. The fire caused about $2,000 damage to the sprayer.

Firemen said they were called to the farm of Hagar Township Supervisor Ed Broderrick, Route 3, Benton Harbor, when J.W. Cummings hit the gas tank with a hammer. A spark from the blow ignited the gasoline, firemen said. No one was injured.

Firemen also reported a minor grass fire at business I-94 and Enclid avenue last night. Cause was unknown.

Runway Will Be Blacked Out

Airport Board Also Sets Rules

Twin city Airport Board moved yesterday to black out the north-south runway nightly and approved traffic and operating rules, two subjects that stirred recent controversy.

The board unanimously asked the Civil Aeronautic administration for permission to waive the requirement that the north-south runway lights be left on during the eight hours the airport is unattended. It was lighting this runway that touched off a smoldering controversy between the board and operators of Cramer Aviation center and Time Airlines, one of the major tenants at Ross Field.

The traffic rules that are standard and not controversial will go into effect immediately, but the operating rules governing individuals, business and organizations using Ross Field won't become effective for six months. However, this morning, Ron Taylor, representing Time Airlines, said he understood that the operating regulations were to be issued to all parties interested before they were submitted for board action. Taylor said to his knowledge no one had received these copies.

PROPOSED AIR SHOW

The board asked to hear more details on a proposed air show to be sponsored by the Lakeshore Jaycees July 20; approved a $345,109 budget and moved another step in trying to obtain land east of the airport to clear the landing path of obstructions.

North Central Airlines' bid for longer hauls was outlined to board members by those who attended the presentation in Grand Rapids earlier this month.

The resolution asking the CAA to waive the requirement that the north-south runway be lighted when the airport is unattended said "the north-south runway circuit is undependable because of its age (19½ years) and numerous lightning strikes." The resolution also noted the airport is unattended for eight hours each night and that the airport's consulting engineer had recommended discontinued use of the runway until a control tower is in operation.

HUMPHREY LEADING IN MICHIGAN DEM RACE

CITE COHO DISASTER

Improved Lake Storm Warning Setup Asked

WASHINGTON —(SPECIAL) U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich) today called on the U.S. Weather Bureau to set up an improved weather warning system along Lake Michigan to protect Coho salmon fishermen from surprise storms.

Seven Coho fishermen drowned last September when a sudden squall whipped up Lake Michigan near Frankfort, swamping or beaching hundreds of small boats.

Bureau stations in the Great Lakes area.

Escapee Captured At Ganges

Found At Home Of Relatives

FENNVILLE — An escaped felon from Dalton Farm at Jackson prison was captured at the trailer home of his two cousins in Ganges township near here Thursday by South Haven state police.

Such a warning system, Griffin said, would include teletype machines placed in sheriff's offices of counties that abut Lake Michigan. The network, which would permit more accurate local forecasts, is known as the ESSA Weather Wire Service.

"In some cases, tornado conditions have passed through an area before the sheriff is notified through the chain of command."

Troopers said they apprehended Paul L. Boyer, 23, at the home of Mary Watts, 26, and Vickie Skinner, 18, in a trailer on 63rd street, after receiving a tip from Allegan city police.

Griffin made his request to the Weather Bureau Director, Dr. George P. Cressman, after consulting with Grand Traverse county Sheriff Richard P. Weiler.

"By installing a teletype system, each office would be notified immediately when the Muskegon radar weather station, or any other station, reports a change heading toward the coast line."

Two revolvers, one a loaded .32 caliber weapon, and a .38 caliber gun were found in the trailer under some mattresses, troopers reported.

The ESSA program was designed for rapid mass dissemination of weather information and warnings from Weather Bureau stations.

Sheriff Weiler said the 14 coastal county sheriffs have 260 boats for use in patrolling the Coho fishing areas, which now stretch all along the lake shore. Each boat is equipped with a two-way radio to maintain contact with its office and a loud speaker system to notify the fishermen of impending danger.

Police said a car that had been stolen from Rosanna Mitchell, Bridgman, was parked in the yard at the trailer home.

Sodus Youth Faces Court On 7 Counts

EAU CLAIRE

Gun Stops 'Tired' Man

Berrien county deputies arrested Ronald Lee Williams, 29, of Chicago, early this morning on a charge of breaking and entering the trailer of Herbert Jackson, Route 2, Eau Claire.

MSU GRAD: Leonard L. Machatka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Svtil of route 1, Lange road, Bridgman, was graduated June 9 from Michigan State university with a bachelor of arts degree in accounting.

Car Crashes Into Barn, Police Say

Deputies said they found Jackson with a shotgun pointed at Williams when they arrived. According to deputies, Williams allegedly said he forced his way into the trailer, because he was tired.

A Sodus township youth was arrested by Berrien county sheriff's deputies yesterday after he allegedly ran his car into the side of a barn and a utility pole and pointed a shotgun at a gas station attendant.

Juan H. Griego, 19, of Hillandale road, was charged with drunk and disorderly conduct, leaving the scene of a property damage accident, reckless driving, no operator's license, defective brakes, no proof of car ownership, and no proof of car insurance.

Nothing Gone In Bank Burglary

ADMASVILLE — Niles state police reported nothing was taken after burglars broke into the Adamsville First National Bank Wednesday night or early Thursday morning.

Doug Schlipp, 25, of Eau Claire, said the youth pointed a shotgun at Schlipp when the attendant told him the service station was out of brake fluid. Then the youth handed the gun over and said it wasn't loaded, deputies reported Schlipp saying.

According to deputies, Griego said his finger was broken when the attendant allegedly attempted to strike him with the shotgun, and he attempted to wrestle it away. He was treated and released from Berrien General hospital.

Troopers said burglars broke a window on the southeast side of the building to gain entrance to the bank. They rummaged around through desks and cabinets but did not take anything from the bank in this small town five miles east of Edwardsburg along US-12.

The barn damage was reported by E. Andres, Jr., Sodus. Several wires were knocked to the ground when the car collided with a utility pole at H o c h b e r g e r and Pipestone roads.

Stukey began his duties this week by setting up the summer band program and assisting Ronald Drum, head of the music department.

Gobles Man Turning 90

GOBLES — Zard Bachelder will celebrate his 90th birthday on July 1.

Charles, a long-time party worker in St. Joseph county, is a member of the State Central committee. He is administrative assistant to the president of the Kirsch Co. in Sturgis.

Stukey is replacing the former band director Kent Johns. Stukey comes to Coloma from Adrian. He was graduated from Michigan State university this past spring and has worked in summer band programs as a director and has done private teaching.

He says farming is quite different from the days when he followed his team and was proud to plow two acres of ground in one day. He compared those times with a neighbor who can now plow 23 acres in three hours.

Seven judges will scrutinize the various classes, according to Mrs. Ann Thain of Baroda, president of the kennel club.

The Coloma summer band program begins next week. Students in grades nine through 12 will be in the band room next Tuesday at 2 p.m. Seventh and eighth grade students meet Thursday at 2 p.m. There will be no summer program for students in the fifth and sixth grades.

A junior handling contest will be staged for boys and girls from 8 to 16 years of age. Food will be available at the grounds.

The judges will be: Dr. J. R. Brillhart, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr. Clayland Clement, Jackson; Ray Norsworthy, Lincoln Park, Mich.; Miss Shirley Shaffer, Park Ridge, Ill.; Miss Marjorie Siebern Gardner, N. Y.; Henry Stoeker, Holmdel, N. J.; and Hollis Wilson, Amherst, Wis.

All students having school owned instruments and uniforms are requested to return them to the school as soon as possible for inventory.

A Band Boosters meeting is planned for early July to allow members to meet Stukey.

SENATOR GRIFFIN

Precinct Boundaries Changed

For Paw Paw And Township

PAW PAW — The Paw Paw township board last night voted to change the boundaries of voting precincts in the township.

The former boundary lines divided the area into three precincts, with parts of the village separated.

Supervisor Gale Copping said the change was made in order to reduce the confusion which would have occurred when people vote on new county commissioner supervisors, as well as township officials.

Under the new system, township voters who reside within the village will vote at the Paw Paw fire hall, and those in the township outside the village will vote at the Farm Bureau building, as in the past.

HOWARD STUKEY

Director Of Bands Is Hired

COLOMA — Howard Stukey has been hired as band director for the Coloma Community schools, according to Victor Wier, high school principal and curriculum coordinator.

Stukey began his duties this week by setting up the summer band program and assisting Ronald Drum, head of the music department.

Stukey is replacing the former band director Kent Johns. Stukey comes to Coloma from Adrian. He was graduated from Michigan State university this past spring and has worked in summer band programs as a director and has done private teaching.

The Coloma summer band program begins next week. Students in grades nine through 12 will be in the band room next Tuesday at 2 p.m. Seventh and eighth grade students meet Thursday at 2 p.m. There will be no summer program for students in the fifth and sixth grades.

All students having school owned instruments and uniforms are requested to return them to the school as soon as possible for inventory.

A Band Boosters meeting is planned for early July to allow members to meet Stukey.

Half Of Delegation Backs Him

Most Of Those Remaining Will Stay Uncommitted

By JAMES H. PHILLIPS Associated Press Writer LANSING (AP)—Vice President Hubert Humphrey can now expect 47 of Michigan's 96 votes at the Democratic National Convention, and 41 delegates remain uncommitted, an Associated Press poll indicated today.

The poll revealed this breakdown of the delegation:

Hubert H. Humphrey 47
Uncommitted 41
Eugene McCarthy 5
Edward M. Kennedy 1
G. Mennen Williams 1
John Glenn 1

The Humphrey total included a number of delegates who said they would not publicly link their names with the vice president but who admitted off the record that they planned to vote for Humphrey on the first ballot.

Michigan's 102-member delegation will receive 96 votes at the August convention in Chicago, with the national committee-man and committee-woman getting one each and each other member receiving 94-100 of a vote.

The Associated Press rounded off vote totals for the individual candidates meaning that those with one vote each actually have 94-100 of a vote.

Supporters of the vice president had claimed he could expect as many as 67 of the 102 delegates to back him at the convention.

STILL UNCOMMITTED The poll indicated no great movement by supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y., to Humphrey. Most of them said they still are uncommitted.

By a narrow margin, more Kennedy backers switched to Humphrey than to Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn.

Uncommitted delegates, and some switching to Humphrey, indicated that they did not view McCarthy as genuine presidential timber, but that they wanted Humphrey to indicate a clearer difference with the administration of President Johnson on Vietnam and domestic issues.

Many still remain uncommitted or say they only lean to the vice president.

"There are a lot of good candidates and I still remain uncommitted," said Owen Bieber of Grand Rapids.

A left-handed endorsement of Humphrey was voiced by State Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, who said:

"When you think of former Vice President Richard Nixon as the alternative, then Humphrey really looks good. So, I guess you could call me a Humphrey man."

Young had supported Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"I'm a great fan of Humphrey's," said Ken Morris, of Royal Oak. "But I think he must speak out on the issues such as the troubles in his own country and where he sees us going in Vietnam."

"I think he's got to move off his solitary support of President Johnson," Morris added. "He must reflect his own views as a presidential candidate."

Marvin L. Borwn, of Detroit, a former backer of Kennedy, said he would probably vote for McCarthy unless Humphrey would "speak out with an independent position on Vietnam, take a more affirmative stand on racial issues and speak to the need of putting domestic policies ahead of foreign adventures."

LANSING (AP) — A temporary restraining order preventing certification of Michigan delegates to the Democratic National Convention was issued Thursday by Ingham Circuit Court Judge Sam Street Hughes.

The order was issued on a complaint filed by Mrs. Elizabeth Jo Holmes, Lansing; Gilbert Hill, and James Harrison of East Lansing.

They seek to overturn a Democratic State Convention ruling that named Nathan Gillison and James Ramey, both of Lansing; Webb Magnor, Jackson, and Mabel Stoltz, Owosso, as 6th District delegates to the national convention.

Harrison said that ruling at the convention was illegal because he was not chairman as provided, and that Mrs. Holmes was not notified of a second caucus held on June 2 to select the delegates.

EDUCATION AVAILABLE: The Covert Migrant Education Program began this week with 52 children attending classes. Charles Moore, teacher, points to numerical flannel board while Rodney Halstad, principal, holds one of the students. School has facilities to educate 100 children. Blueberry plantation owners and managers and other area farmers who use migrant help are urged to remind their employees of the opportunity for their children to attend the school. Bus pick up begins at 7:30 a.m. with lunch served the children at the school and dismissal at 3 p.m. A nursery is available for 2½ to 4½ year old children. Dental and health services are also available for the children. (Olga Stegeman photo).

LMC Receives Federal Funds For Construction

Approval of the full amount of a $750,000 grant to Lake Michigan college as the federal share of a $4.6 million Phase II building program at the new LMC campus, has been made by the U.S. Office of Education.

The grant was reported by U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart.

Part of the federal grant, $222,800, had been approved earlier, and the remaining sum was added by the federal education office now out of newly-available funds.

The college's Phase II building plans, however, apparently will remain inactive until mid-1969, pending appropriation of the state's share of the project costs.

Meanwhile, the college is holding up action on its plans to sell $5 million worth of building bonds to raise its share of the costs. Because Phase II construction cannot start until the state grant is approved and because of the high interest rates currently being bid on the bond market, Karlstrom said the bond sale is being held up.

Phase I of the college's new campus construction currently is scheduled for completion in January, 1969, but the current carpenters' strike is adding further delay to an already belated construction schedule.

WE'RE LOADED

EDITOR'S MAILBAG

all for anyone who will look into this matter to show where one taxpayer is paying a tax rate 10 times that of another based on his ability to pay.

I believe it can be shown that there is even as great a difference as 100 times in the rates being paid by some individuals on this basis. This could not be shown without getting involved in personalities which have no place here.

The only opportunity these people, who are being victimized by this unfair tax basis, have to express themselves is to vote "NO" when school taxes are requested. This brings out a built-in NO vote from people who would be glad to vote YES if the tax was being levied on a fair basis.

I believe that the school people are bright enough to know this. They should be in the forefront giving leadership to a movement to get the basis for raising school tax monies on a fair and equitable foundation. However they are conspicuously absent. Just possibly the fact that on such a basis they would have to pay their fair share of the school taxes might be an explanation.

The only organization that I happen to know has done anything about this locally is the Three Oaks Community Farm Bureau. They passed and sent to Lansing a resolution that school taxes be removed from property tax rolls and raised on the basis of an income tax roll.

All of this is basic and fundamental, but nothing can be done about it in time to benefit the emergency situation now existing at River Valley.

Undoubtedly another reason for many NO votes in the recent election is a failure in communication between the school board and the voters.

It is popular recently when talking about national politics to refer to the "credibility gap". The credibility gap which has existed, and still exists, in the River Valley District.

A public meeting was called last Friday night to discuss the school situation. During the course of that meeting someone remarked that the school board needed a public relations man. He sure hit the nail on the head!

The way the public was treated at that meeting was an example to the point.

The meeting was called for 8 o'clock. At about 10 minutes after that time a board member came in and told the group that the board was going to have a short meeting first; but to stick around, that they would be back in 20 minutes or a half an hour.

About a third of the group present walked out. Some, but not all of them, returned later. Of course I have no way of knowing what went on in that board meeting.

As I sat there waiting, these thoughts went through my head. I knew that they were going to have a session after the public meeting. The only thing I could think of that had to be done before the public meeting, which they had called, was to decide what and how much they were going to tell us.

During the course of the meeting a school board member answered a question regarding a rumor which was going around, and then in utter disgust and frustration remarked in effect that nobody could keep up with all the rumors. How right he was!

Yet, I could not help recalling that a few months back when the school board made a very unpopular decision and some of the patrons and taxpayers asked to be informed of the facts on which the decision was based, they were simply informed that the Board had voted unanimously not to say anything.

I personally made a sincere effort by attending meetings and talking with Board members to learn the facts in the matter, but was unsuccessful.

And incidentally every member of that Board had the benefit of my vote when winning a seat on that Board.

About this time in an editorial in the St. Joseph Herald-Press, the writer commented on the turmoil down Three Oaks way and indicated that he had visited friends in that area and in a half hour or so had gotten the low down on the situation.

I have no reason to doubt that he was so. Yet even to this day I, who am a voter and a taxpayer, have not been able to find out the facts are. In to vote intelligently one has to know the facts.

If there is any doubt in anyone's mind who has read this far, I voted YES on the two millage elections which failed.

I am not well enough informed to know just how much of the 14 mills was actually needed. I do know that we need a school, and felt that it should be improved.

I am also sick and tired of being told, (although always very politely) not in so many words, but in effect, that decisions of the school board were none of my business, and to get my information from rumors.

Let us have the facts, all of them, and in detail. We need them in order to make intelligent decisions. Something has got to be done if we are to have a school this fall.

Where do we go from here?

LYNN J. PARDEE, Three Oaks
